

The Real Cyber Nation - Group Rules & Guidelines

The Real Cyber Nation is a community for/of Cyber Security enthusiasts, students, and professionals alike.

The main purpose of this community is to facilitate, distribute and exchange knowledge on anything cybersecurity and Blockchain Technology (resources, courses, trainings, podcasts, webinars, bootcamps, more).

The following are the rules of engagement:

 Remember to keep all topics relevant to the purpose of the Real Cyber Nation community. Discussions on Religion, Politics, Sports etc. are strictly prohibited.

 We do not support or promote illegal (unethical) hacking.

 The discussions, materials, articles, tutorial, and demo provided in this community is for informational and educational purpose only, for those who're willing and curious to know and learn about emerging technologies and Cyber Security.

 Do not attempt to violate the law with anything taught or learnt in the community as the misuse of information can result in criminal charges brought against the person(s) in question.

 Do not misuse the information to gain unauthorised access. Performing computer hack attempts (without permission) on computers that you do not own is illegal and attract criminal charges accordingly.

 All information shared in the course of events is intended to enable the development of the relevant skills to succeed in the ever-changing cyber landscape.

 Cyberstalking or contacting any member of the Real Cyber Nation directly is strictly prohibited. It's important to respect the privacy of community members and if you need to share information – the community general chat is the best place to do so. Private questions can be asked via email to cyberbootcamp@josephikhalia.com.

 Be respectful to each other.

Treat everyone with respect, participate while acknowledging that everyone deserves to enjoy a positive learning experience without fear or intimidation.

 Attacks on group members, use of derogatory/defamatory, remarks, posting of inappropriate or profanity comments is frowned against and would result in certain actions from leadership.

 The Real Cyber Nation reserves the right to modify this Disclaimer/Guidelines at any time without notice.